

Everything, Everywhere, Everyone, and Everybody

The words "everything," "everywhere," "everyone," and "everybody" are words that we use to refer to a person or a thing without saying who or what it is.

Everything refers to things.

Everywhere refers to places.

Everyone and everybody refer to people.

Everyone and everybody are synonyms. You can usually use whichever word you like.

Instructions:

Choose the correct word, everything, everywhere, everyone, or everybody, to complete these sentences.

1. Show love in _____ you do. (1 Corinthians 16:14)
2. _____ who asks will receive. (Matthew 7:8)
3. News about Jesus spread _____. (Luke 4:14)
4. The Lord will save _____ who asks for his help. (Acts 2:21)
5. Frogs were _____, even in the royal palace. (Psalms 105:30)
6. Levi left _____ and went with Jesus. (Luke 5:28)
7. _____ took off their earrings. (Exodus 32:3)
8. My child, listen carefully to _____ I say. (Proverbs 4:20)
9. We will sing your praises _____ on earth. (Isaiah 12:5)
10. I told _____ the good news.

Answers are on the next page.

Answers:

1. Show love in everything you do. (1 Corinthians 16:14)
2. Everyone who asks will receive. (everybody is also correct) (Matthew 7:8)
3. News about Jesus spread everywhere. (Luke 4:14)
4. The Lord will save everyone who asks for his help. (everybody is also correct) (Acts 2:21)
5. Frogs were everywhere, even in the royal palace. (Psalms 105:30)
6. Levi left everything and went with Jesus. (Luke 5:28)
7. Everybody took off their earrings. (Exodus 32:3) (everyone is also correct)
8. My child, listen carefully to everything I say. (Proverbs 4:20)
9. We will sing your praises everywhere on earth. (Isaiah 12:5)
10. I told everybody the good news. (everyone is also correct)